Enviability Distinction.

IN the midst of a general, and in many instances, not unfounded prejudice against many of the medical remedies of the day,

DR. WILLIAM EVANS' PILLS

have the enviable distinction of an universal approbation. They are perhaps the only medicine publicly advertised, that has the full and unreserved testimony of medical men in its favor; if not the only one which gives full satisfaction to its purchasers. DR. W. EVANS has the satisfaction of knowing that his

are not only regulated, recommended and prescribed by the most experienced physicians in their daily practice, but also taken by those gentlemen themselves, whenever they feel the symptoms of these diseases in which they well know them to be efficacious. He knows this to be generally the case in New York, Philadelphia, Albany and Boston, and other large cities in which they have an extensive sale. That they should thus conquer professional prejudice and interested opposition, and secure the agency of the most eminent and best informed physicians in the country, to render them useful to all classes, can only be fairly ascribed to their undeniable and pre-eminent virtues.

These medicines, which can be purchased either together or separately, are confidently recommended for the following complaints, and directions for use accompany them:—Bilious and Liver Affections, in every stage and degree, Female Sickness, more particularly the nausea incident to mothers; Fluor Albus; Fever and Ague, Incipient Consumption or Declines, whether of Liver or Lungs; Headache and Giddiness; Loss of Appetite; Nervous Tremors, Inebriation or Delirium Tremens; Spasmodic Affections of all kinds; Rheumatism, whether Chronic or Inflammatory; Nervous and Bilious Fevers, of every variety; Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all blotches, bad humors, and impure complexions of the skin; Restlessness at night, and irritability and melancholy; the Summer Complaint and Cholera Morbus or Diarrhea in grown persons; Worms and Flatulency, with bad breath; Chlorosis and Palpitations of the Heart or Head; Changes of Female Constitutions; and for impaired and disorganized constitutions in either sex, which have not been permanently relieved by any other medicines. A single trial of Dr. W. EVANS' MEDICINES in any of these cases will produce such effects as will indicate their incomparable superiority, and induce such a use of them as will ensure a speedy and unquestionable cure. The purchaser, however, should be careful to get them genuine Dr. W. EVANS' OFFICE, No. 100 Chatham street, New York, or any of his authorized Agents, as all others are base and ignorant impositions. For further particulars, he respectfully requests the public to peruse his other advertisements and medical papers, which may be depended upon for their strict and acknowledged truth.

THE VICISSITUDES OF THE SUMMER

and the preceding Spring, have afforded peculiar opportunities of exemplifying, in this country, the happy effects of Dr. W. EVANS' TONIC PILLS, upon debilitated constitutions. In cases of extreme nervous suffering, which stimulating tonics only momentarily relieve and at length greatly aggravate, a single box of these beautifully compounded Pills has proved an immediate and continual benefit. The loss of appetite and tremulous exhaustion which all invalids feel during this oppressive season, are relieved in two or three hours by one dose only; and in many cases, even when they fortify the system a long time against a recurrence of these attacks.

TO LADIES ESPECIALLY,

who suffer from the nausea and lassitude incidental to interesting changes of health, these Pills are friends indeed, and a box of them has hence become the favorite boudoir and toilet confidant of ladies in wedded life. If taken before exercise in the open air, they will generally prevent the lassitude and fatigue which frequently attend it at this season; and if taken afterwards, they never fail to remove these sensations in a few moments. That oppressive sensation of arterial fullness and throbbing in the head which is generally experienced in fervid and sultry weather, is so speedily removed by these Pills, that they are recommended by a great number of our best physicians in preference to any other prescriptions, as they are well known to be in many cases.

THE CURES—THE GREAT, EFFECTUAL AND UNDENIABLE CURES

which this fine tonic and restorative remedy effects in the cases that are particularly in other advertisements, are daily exciting the admiration, and eliciting the candid acknowledgment of the medical profession who witness them, not less than of the happy patients who experience them. Direction for taking the Camomile Pills, as well as Dr. W. EVANS' Aperient Family Pills, always accompany them.

AN EXTRAORDINARY AND REMARKABLE CURE!

Mrs. Mary Dillon, Williamsburg, corner of Fourth and North streets, completely restored to health by the treatment of Dr. Wm. Evans, 100 Chatham street.

The symptoms of the distressing case were as follows: Total loss of appetite, palpitation of the heart, twitching of the tendons, with a general spasmodic affection of the muscles, difficulty of breathing, giddiness, languor, lassitude, great depression of spirits, with a fear of some impending evil, a sensation of fluttering in the pit of the stomach, irregular transient pains in different parts, great emaciation, with other symptoms of extreme debility.

The above case was pronounced hopeless by three of the most eminent physicians, and the dissolution of the patient awaited by her friends, which may be authenticated by the physicians who were in attendance. She has given her cheerful permission to publish the above facts, and will also gladly give any information to any inquiring mind.

MARY DILLON.

DYSPEPSIA AND HYPOCONDRIACISM.

Interesting case.—Mr. William Salmon Green, street above third, Philadelphia, afflicted for several years with the following distressing symptoms: Sickness at the stomach, headache, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, impaired appetite and weakness of the extremities, emaciation and general debility, disturbed rest, a sense of pressure and weight at the stomach after eating, nightmare, great mental despondency, severe flying pains in the chest, back and sides, costiveness, a dislike for society, or conversation, involuntary sighing, and weeping, languor and lassitude upon the least exertion.

Mr. Solomon had applied to the most eminent physicians who considered it beyond the power of medicine to restore him to health; however, as his affliction had reduced him to a very deplorable condition, and having been recommended by a relative of his to make a trial of Dr. Wm. Evans' medicine, he with difficulty repaired to the office and procured a package to which, he says he is indebted for his restoration to life, health and friends. He is now enjoying all the blessings of health. Persons desirous of further information, will be satisfied in every particular as to this astonishing cure at Dr. Wm. Evans' Medicine Office, 100 Chatham street New York.

A severe case of Piles cured at 100 Chatham street.—Mr. Daniel Spanning of Shawbury, Eden Town, New Jersey, was severely afflicted with Piles for more than 20 years. Had had recourse to medicines of almost every description, also the advice of several eminent physicians, but never found the slightest relief from any source whatsoever until he called on Dr. Evans, of 100 Chatham street, New York and procured some medicine from him, from which he found immediate relief, and subsequently a perfect cure.

An Extraordinary Cure performed by Dr. Wm. Evans, of 100 Chatham street, New York.—Mr. W. W. of 160 Eldridge street, was labouring under a disease, which was by many physicians considered incurable, and could find no relief from any source whatever until he made application to Dr. Evans, and placed himself under his successful course of treatment; from which he began to find immediate relief, and in a few weeks was perfectly cured.

Remarkable case of acute Rheumatism, with an affection of the lungs—cured under the treatment of Dr. Wm. Evans, 100 Chatham street, New York. Mr. Benjamin S. Jarvis, 13 Centre street Newark, N. J. afflicted for four years with severe pains in all his joints which were always increased on the slightest motion; the tongue preserved a steady whiteness, loss of appetite, dizziness of his head, the bowels commonly very constipated, the urine high colored, and often profuse sweating, unattended by relief. The above symptoms were also attended with considerable difficulty of breathing, with a sense of tightness across the chest, likewise a great want of due energy in the nervous system.

BENJ. S. JARVIS.

City of New York, ss.

Benjamin S. Jarvis being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the facts stated in the above certificate subscribed by him, are in all respects true.

BENJ. S. JARVIS.

Sworn before me, this 25th of November, 1836.

WM. SAUL Notary Public, 96 Nassau.

PARALYTIC RHEUMATISM.

A perfect cure effected by the treatment of Dr. W. Evans. Mr. John Gibson, of North Fourth street, Williamsburg afflicted with the above complaint for three years and nine months during which time he had to use crutches. His chief symptoms were excruciating pain in all his joints, but especially in the hip, shoulder, knees and ankles; an aggravation of the pain towards night, and for the most part all times from the external heat, an obvious thickening of the fascia and ligaments, with a complete loss of muscular power.—For the benefit of those afflicted in a similar manner, Mr. Gibson conceives it meet to say that the pains have entirely ceased, and that his joints have completely recovered their natural tone, and he feels able to resume his ordinary business.

Mrs. Anne F. Kenny, No. 115 Lewis street, between Stanton and Houston, afflicted for ten years with the following distressing symptoms: Acid, eructation, daily spasmodic, pains in the head, loss of appetite, palpitation of her heart, giddiness and dimness of sight, could not lie on her right side, disturbed rest, utter inability of engaging in any thing that demanded vigour or courage, sometimes a visionary idea of an aggravation of her disease, a whimsical aversion to particular persons and places, groundless apprehensions of personal danger and poverty, an irksomeness and weariness of life, discontented, disquieted on every slight occasion, she conceived she could neither die nor live; most miserable life, never was any one so bad, with frequent mental hallucinations.

Mrs. Kenny had the advice of several eminent physicians, and had recourse to numerous medicines but could not obtain even temporary alleviation of her distressing state, till her husband persuaded her to make trial of my mode of treatment.

She now quite relieved and finds herself not only capable of attending to her domestic affairs, but avows that she enjoys as good health at present as she did at any period of her existence.

J. Kenny, husband of the aforesaid Anne Kenny. Sworn before me, this 14th. day of December, 1836.

PETER PINCKNEY, Com. of Deeds.

A letter from Mr. Sheldon P. Gilbert to Dr. Wm. Evans, proprietor of the celebrated Camomile Pills:

"Sir—Had the immortal Cowper known the medical qualities of the Camomile Plant, he as well as thousands since, (beside myself) would have experienced its wonderful effects on the nervous system. The public utility of Cowper was blighted in the bud, through the natural effect of his nervous debility upon the mental powers, which made it necessary for him to seek relief beneath the rural shade, but the calm retreat gave his physical nature no repose. If some one then had known the secret of concentrating the medical virtues of Camomile, the discoverer would have been immortalized with poetic zeal as the benefactor of suffering men."

The above lines were prompted from the effect I have experienced from Dr. Wm. Evans' Camomile Pills.

Yours, with esteem,

SHeldon P. GILBERT.

A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

Dr. Wm. EVANS' CELEBRATED SOOTHING SYRUP, FOR CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH.

This infallible has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the child will recover. This preparation is so innocent, so efficacious, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to let its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are at the age of four months, though there is no appearance of teeth, one bottle should be used on the gums to open the pores. Parents should never be without the Syrup in the nursery where there are young children; for if a child wakes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers, &c.

A single trial of this invaluable medicine will test its unrivalled virtues.

In no instance in the many thousand cases where it has been used has it failed to give immediate relief to the infantile sufferer.

HISTORICAL FACTS

WORTHY OF REMEMBRANCE.

The first charter for a colony granted by the crown of England, was granted by Queen Elizabeth in 1578 to Sir Humphrey Gilbert. By this charter he was authorized to, take possession of all barbarous lands, unoccupied by any christian prince or people."

The first English colony planted in America, was at Roanoke Island, Virginia, 1585. One hundred and seven persons were left there by Sir Richard Greenville under the Government of Mr. Lane.

On the 18th of August 1787, Mrs. Dare was delivered of a daughter in Roanoke, which was baptised the next Lord's day by the name of Virginia. This was the first English child born in this colony.

In 1607 the English settlers built a town in Virginia, and in honor of King James, called it James Town. This was the first permanent habitation of the English in America.

The first marriage in Virginia was in 1608, between John Laydon and Ann Burras.

The first marriage in New England was in 1621, between Edward Winslow and Susanna White.

In 1610 a member of parliament came to America and the house of commons declared his seat vacant, because by accepting a colony office they supposed that he was incapable of executing his trust. This was the first time that Virginia, appears to have been noticed by the English parliament.

In 1616 tobacco was first cultivated in Virginia.

In 1692 the great witchcraft mania raged in Massachusetts. Immense numbers were accused of this imaginary crime, and not a few convicted and executed. So great was the delusion that the accused often became convinced of their own guilt, and made public confession before they were executed. Old England greatly censured New England for these excesses; but if we will go back to 1645, we find one Mathew Hopkins with a commission from parliament going about from place to place to seek out witches, and that through his discoveries a great number were hanged.

The population of the earth according to Malte Brun, is 653,000,000. Of this number he estimates that 228,000,000 are Christians; but in this estimate he includes all who live in Christian countries, however variant their creeds or sceptical their opinions, provided they do not set up a religion in opposition to that of Christ. But the Protestants to the Greek and Roman churches are Christians, and vice versa. Then the Protestants only numbering 42,000,000 are to the whole population of the earth as 1 is to 15, and as in all Protestant countries many are too immoral reasonably to hope a place in the divine mansion, we may estimate that not more than one half of the above number, or one out of every 30 of the inhabitants of the earth are Christians. Again, the Protestants are divided into an almost infinite number of opposing sects, all of whom cannot be right, and a few of either sect live according to the requirements of their creed and the scriptures, on which their creed is founded. Then without stopping to inquire which of these one hundred and one sects are right, if but one can be, and only those of that one who live up to the requirements of its creed and the scriptures, may we not say, as one did eighteen hundred years ago—"Strait is the gate and narrow is the way that leads to life, and few there be that find it."

In 1776 the important discovery was made that the majority of mankind were not made with saddles on their backs, and a favored few booted and spurred ready to ride them legitimately by the grace of God.—B.—Peoria Register.

THE DAYS OF ANCIENT CHIVALRY have not entirely passed away, as appears by the following letter of recent date from Tiflis, in Georgia: "A young Cabbardian prince, named Schnedli, having carried off the daughter of a nobleman, Boiyaki Beg, the father commanded his son Melrk to defy the ravisher to single combat. The challenge was accepted, and at midday on the 25th October, the combatants met on the plain of Artstann, between Derbent and Bouinaki, each attended by twelve noutiks, or esquires, bearing the banners of their respective chiefs. On that of the prince was a golden falcon on a green shield; the bearings of the young Beg were a black bear, surmounted by three silver stars on a blooded field. The combatants and their esquires were all armed cap-a-pie in mail, helmets crested with feathers, and their lances fastened to their waists. Four elders, two chosen by each, were seated on a raised platform, who laid down the laws of the battle, and were to decide upon the conduct and issue of the combat. They proclaimed that should either of the combatants be unhorsed, or if the followers of either took to flight, he should be considered as vanquished, and lie at the mercy of his adversary. The word was given, and the onset made with equal ardor on both sides. The conflict was long and obstinate, and 14 of the esquires were overthrown, when Melrk Beg, who had already received three wounds by a resolute and bold manœuvre, threw the prince out of the saddle. The successful champion imposed no other penalty on his fallen foe than of immediately espousing his sister—a ceremony which was performed on the following day. The Governor of Georgia, on receiving a report of this extraordinary rencontre, sent severe reprimands to all who were engaged in it, but declined bringing them before the tribunal, as no one was killed or even dangerously wounded.—Paris Moniteur.

CONFESSION OF A MURDERER.

TALES OF BLOOD.

Our readers will doubtless recollect the murder of the unfortunate Silas D. Rives, in Mississippi, last September. John W. Carter has been arrested as participant with one Johnson Cook, who is now in Texas. It is believed Rives had about $10,000 upon him when murdered. Most of this Carter says Cook took with him.

Johnson Cook is a second Murrell, if Carter's account of his crimes is unclosed.—Among others he details these.

Carter states that Cook, and a man by the name of Bryant, who lives at Lake Ponchartrain, killed a man by the name of Allen, in Tallahassee, Florida, and robbed him of $1,650 in cash.

Cook painted himself like an Indian, and headed a party of Seminoles, and butchered one of the most wealthy white families on the frontier of Florida. After killing the whole family, except a young man, who stood over and fought for his sister until he was wounded by a shot from an Indian, Cook then struck an ax into his head, and left it there sticking—robbed the house of $1,100 in paper, and 70 or $80 in specie. He kept the paper and gave the Indians the specie.

Cook then went to Appalachicola Bay, and from thence to Bainbridge, Decatur county, Georgia, and in company with a Virginian, with whom he had been travelling in the stage, and supposing he had money, at Cook's instance, walked out to the spring, there killed the Virginian, threw him in the river, and robbed him of $1,110—two $16 pieces of gold and three smaller pieces. The crime was committed in December, 1836. From Bainbridge he returned to Columbus, Georgia, his residence.

In Tallahassee, Florida, he saw a traveller pay his bill. Discovered he had money, he told the stranger he was travelling his route, and as it was a dismal road he would be glad of his company. The stranger thanked him, and they travelled about seventeen miles, when Cook proposed they should drink together, and while the stranger was drinking out of the bottle, Cook shot him through the back of the head and robbed him of about $662.

Cook, and his brother-in-law, Chas. Hollis, killed the ferry-man of the St. John's river, on Augustine trail, a Frenchman, and robbed him of 1,600 or $1,800, and turned the flat loose to avoid the possibility of pursuit.

Cook murdered a man not far from Tallahassee, and robbed him of $2,400 and $18 in cash.

He then went into the Indian country, and purchased a pony, and stole seventeen more and hired an Indian to assist him. When he got into the white settlements, he then made the Indian drunk and cut his throat.

Cook and Capt. Minny (a celebrated pirate) went to Snake Island, understanding that a vessel was coming from Key West, murdered the crew, consisting of 7 or 8 men and three ladies, plundered the boat of $17,000 in specie, and scuttled and sunk the vessel.

Cook was then taken in irons, to Tallahassee, but was released by force, from the civil authorities, and the irons knocked off. The names of his friends are Augustus and Willis Austin, of Texas.

Cook and Capt. Minny, came across a vessel going from St. Marks to Alamony Lake, loaded with provisions, murdered the white persons on board sold the provisions and 7 negroes which were on board and sunk the vessel. Capt. Minny died at St. Marks last winter.

Cook then left for Columbus, Georgia, his residence, where he saw a traveller pay his bill, headed him, took deliberate aim; his gun snapped, which the stranger heard and fled.

Cook met with an acquaintance from Texas in May or June last, in Clarke county, Alabama, whose name was William Green. Green told him that his old friends Augustus and Willis Austin, were anxious that Cook should go there, as they particularly needed his services.

Cook thought there was no more harm in killing a man than there was in killing a hog—did not believe that there was either hell or heaven—has killed and robbed forty or fifty men, and would this winter have murdered and plundered as many more.

Johnson Cook is between 26 and 30 years of age; weighs about 140 pounds, has keen blue eyes, and is very narrow between the eyes; his face and hands were badly scarred with dirks and knives, which he got by fighting; has been stabbed through the muscle of the arm twice with a dirk; also in the hip; his hair is sandy, and one of his fingers is broken.

Society is deeply interested in the detection and punishment of such a villain. From this statement the Governor should not hesitate to offer a heavy reward for his apprehension.

The most sublime thoughts—beautiful and powerful figures—and pure phraseology—are found in an obsolete work, but seldom quoted, called the Bible.

A REMARKABLE DREAM.

The following is the most remarkable account of the velocity of thought when a person is dreaming, that we have ever read. It is copied from "A Biographical Sketch of Count Lavellette," whose high character and sufferings are known to all who are familiar with the history of Napoleon. At the time at which the dream occurred, the Count was imprisoned, under sentence of death, which had been passed upon him in consequence of his conduct during the 'Hundred Days.' "His wonderful escape from prison—which forms one of the brightest chapters in the romance of history—is well known to every reader, and makes one of the million recorded instances which prove the purity and singleness of woman's affection, that feeling which is 'stronger than death.' "One night, while I was asleep, the clock of the Palais de Justice struck twelve, and awoke me. I heard the gate open to relieve the sentry, but I fell asleep again immediately. In this sleep, I dreamed that I was standing in the Rue St. Honore, at the corner of the Rue de l'Echelle. A melancholy darkness spread around me; all was still, nevertheless a low and uncertain sound soon arose. All of a sudden, I perceived, at the bottom of the street and advancing towards me, a troop of cavalry, the men and horses, however, all flayed. The men held torches in their hands, the red flames of which illuminated faces without skin, and bloody muscles. Their hollow eyes rolled fearfully in their large sockets, their mouths opened from ear to ear, and helmets of hanging flesh covered their hideous heads. The horses dragged along their own skins in the kennels, which overflowed with blood on both sides.—Pale and dishevelled women appeared and disappeared alternately at the windows, in dismal silence; low, inarticulate groans filled the air; and I remained in the street alone petrified with horror and deprived of strength sufficient to seek my safety by flight. This horrible troop continued passing in a rapid gallop, and casting frightful looks on me. Their march, I thought, continued for five hours, and they were followed by an immense number of artillery-wagons, full of bleeding corpses whose limbs still quivered; a disgusting smell of blood and bitumen almost choked me. At length the iron gate of the prison shutting with great force awoke me again. I made my repeater strike; it was no more than midnight, so that the horrible phantasmagoria had lasted no more than 2 or 3 minutes; that is to say, the time necessary for relieving the sentry and shutting the gate. The cold was severe, and the watch word short. The next day the turnkey confirmed my calculations. I nevertheless do not remember one single event in my life the duration which I have been able more exactly to calculate, of which the details are deeper engraven in my memory, and of which I preserve a more perfect consciousness."

—Howsoever mortals fast and pray,

The flesh is frail, and so the soul's undone.—Byron.

"A fair business transaction."—Last Saturday, during the most busy hour of the day, a courtizan of some notoriety walked into one of the banks in Wall street, New York, and presented a check, signed by a gentleman of eminent piety and great wealth, for the trifling sum of $10. Now, as the apparent drawer of the check had never before sent for a less sum than $100, and as the signature had every appearance of having been written by a trembling hand, to say nothing of the utter improbability of the pious man having any thing to do with those wanton dames who tempt honest gentlemen from the path of duty,—all these considerations led to a suspicion of forgery, and the bearer of the check, in accordance with the expressed wishes of all present, was examined by the Cashier. To this officer she told so plain a story, as to induce him, in compliance with her request to that effect, to send a bank porter to her residence, to ascertain the truth or falsity of her statement. The porter was despatched, and had an interview with the supposedly culminated gentleman, who assured him that the check was genuine. He returned to the bank, and reported progress, and the check was immediately cashed. The fair recipient then hastened home, and released her prisoner, whose exit from the house was witnessed by a number of friends, who had repaired to the neighborhood from the bank, anxious to see how the affair would terminate. They were not, however, seen by him in return, as he appeared to be engaged, during his journey to the counting-house, in a deep study of the geological character of the stones which form the side-walks.

Crime in High Life.—We have been informed that a discovery was a few days since made, that Francis D. Elmer, Teller in the Cumberland Bank, New Jersey, had abstracted a considerable amount of the funds of that institution, and appropriated them to his own use. The suspicions of the officers of the Bank, we learn were awakened to the fact for several days previous to the denouement, yet so startling was it, that few or none were found willing to believe it. The first of this week he was entrusted, by the President of the institution, who bears the name of the delinquent, and is, we believe, a relative, with several thousand dollars, to bring to the city to get changed. After he started, an examination of his accounts realized their worst fears—and least he might not return, the President started on after him—secured what money he had, and took him home to Bridgton, where, we understand, he made a full confession, and in order to indemnify the bank against loss, made to it all his property among which was a handsome new house, not yet finished. He was connected with the most reputable families of the county, both by ties of consanguinity and of marriage. He has left the State, and behind him a most amiable wife and child.—Philadelphia Times.

No man, woman or child—black, white or colored—can now smoke in the streets of Savannah, without subjecting themselves to both fine and imprisonment, the mayor having issued a proclamation to that effect.—Pitt.

FROM EUROPE.

From the North American—June 1st.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.

The steam ship Great Western, Capt. Hoskins, arrived at New York in thirteen days from Bristol, bringing Bristol papers to the 18th, the day of sailing, London the evening of the 17th, and Liverpool to the 16th.

REINSTATEMENT OF THE BRITISH MINISTRY.

From the New York papers.

Sir Robert Peel had been entrusted by the Queen with the formation of a ministry, but had, in consequence of not being able to accomplish this object, resigned his commission, and Lord Melbourne had been reinstated.

The excitement which was created by the news of Sir Robert Peel's resignation was not allayed when it was known that Lord Melbourne had been restored to office.

Sir Robert Peel, it appears, suggested the necessity of a resignation of the ladies attached to the Queen's household, and on the tender of the resignation of Lady Normandy, Her Majesty refused to accept it, saying:

"I have deferred, and am always willing to defer, to the wishes of the People, but I will not give up every thing to a party, nor be the slave of a faction."

The conduct of the Queen, was received generally through England, with the greatest marks of approbation.

The late attempt of Sir Robert Peel, says the London Sun of May 17th, to constitute himself Mayor of the Palace, and play the part of Viceroy over the Queen, has roused, as was to be anticipated, the indignation of the people from one end of the country to the other. We know not in which feeling is just now most predominant in the popular mind—abhorrence of the projected despotism of the Tories, or admiration of the firm, high-minded resistance of the Queen.

Such is the confusion consequent on the present unsettled state of affairs, that the royal commission, which was to have been brought down to the Lords on Monday, was not forthcoming till Tuesday.

Lord John Russell, Lord Palmerston, and Mr. Spring Rice, it is said, retire from the cabinet, and are to be raised to the peerage. Lord Morpeth to succeed Lord John Russell at the Home office and as leader in the House of Commons; Lord Durham to be foreign secretary; Mr. C. Buller under secretary; Mr. Poulett Thompson to be chancellor of the exchequer. The changes in contemplation, no doubt, will be settled at the cabinet which is now sitting; and in all probability several new writs will be moved in the Commons this morning.—Correspondence of the Standard.

London, Tuesday, May 14.—In the House of Lords last night three of the last batch of new Peers took their oaths and their seats. No business of importance was transacted, and not a word was said respecting the Ministry.

Before 5 o'clock the House of Commons was crowded, as it is within a few minutes of an important division.

Lord John Russell rose and suggested that Sir Robert Peel, having failed in his endeavor to form a Ministry, should explain the circumstances of that failure before he himself should state the reasons for the resumption of the Government by the former Ministers.

Sir R. Peel said, he had reserved for this place and this occasion the explanation of the circumstances under which he had relinquished his attempt.

He proceeded to say that the Duke of Wellington having been sent for by the Queen on Wednesday the 8th of this month, and invited to assist in the formation of a Government, had advised her, that, as the chief difficulties were to be dealt with in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister should be a member of that House; and, on his Grace's suggestion, Sir Robert Peel was then summoned.

When he waited on her Majesty, she expressed her great regret at parting with her late Ministers, who, she said, had given her entire satisfaction; but their resignation had made it necessary for her to consider the formation of a new Government. Having received her commands, he communicated, on the same evening, with eight of his friends—the Duke, the Lords Lyndhurst, Aberdeen, Ellenborough, and Stanley, Sir James Graham, Sir H. Hardinge, and Mr. Goulburn.—He next day submitted their names to the Queen, acquainting her that the Duke, while he placed his services wholly at her disposal, would rather lead the House of Lords without an office, than undertake a department of the Administration. She, however, expressed a wish that he should hold an office, and Sir Robert Peel assured her he had no doubt that the Duke would forego his own personal inclinations at her desire. No material question arose at the time as to the form of the Administration, or the conduct of the Government.

On Thursday occurred the difficulty, or misconception which led to his relinquishment. It related exclusively to that portion of the household offices which ladies were filling; for, on the subject of those household officers which were held by members of either House of Parliament, she had conceded all that could be wished.

London, May 17.—We are enabled to state, that on Monday, the 27th inst., the Right Hon. Henry Goulburn will certainly be proposed for the office of Speaker, vacant by Mr. Abercromby's resignation of the chair, and that the House will proceed to the election at half past 3 o'clock exactly.—Times.

A number of the Chartists had been arrested in London on the 16th. The news of the insurrection caused a great excitement in Manchester.—They assembled in great numbers, and cheered the intelligence as it was received.

London, May 17.—"City 12 o'clock.—The overland letters from India have not yet been received. From the Cape of Good Hope there are papers to the 10th of March, being three days later; but we observe nothing in them requiring remark.

"In the English Stock Market, Mr. Cole has made further sales of Consols for money at 93, beyond which there has been very little doing, and the quotations are 93 to 94 for money, and 93 to 94 for the Account. Exchequer Bills are 32 to 34 premium.

The scarcity of money is still felt in the American Stock and Share Market, in which securities there has not been many transactions; the following are the nearest prices for them:—

NEW FRENCH MINISTRY AND RIOT IN PARIS.

The London Morning Chronicle of the 14th states that an insurrection had broke out in the streets of Paris on the Sunday preceding, by three hundred individuals, causing the effusion of much blood.

PARIS, Sunday, May 12.—Nothing has taken place in the Boulevards. The insurrection is this moment concentrated in the lower parts of the Rue St. Dennis, Montmartre, and St. Martin. Barricades are formed, one in the Rue St. Dennis, near the church of St. Leu; the other at the corner of the Rue Tivertonne and Montorgueil. This last was attacked about half past six by the grenadier of the 3rd legion of the National Guard, aided by a detachment of the line. The officer commanding the post of the Palace of Justice and two soldiers were killed.

M. Soudoux, of the 3d Legion, was killed in the attack of the barricade.

Marshal Gerard has taken the command of the troops of the garrison.

PARIS, May 13.—As a consequence, we suppose, of the insurrection, the King at length on Sunday evening, appointed a Ministry in lieu of that which had been named ad interim, and which is thus given in the Moniteur of yesterday:—

Marshal Soult, President of the Council, and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

M. Teste, Minister of Justice.

General Schneider, Minister of War.

Admiral Duperre, Minister of Marine.

M. Duchatel, Minister of the Interior.

M. Cunin Gridaire, Minister of Commerce.

M. Dufaure (?) Minister of Public Works.

M. Villemaine, Minister of Public Instruction.

M. Passy, Minister of Finance.

PARIS, May 14.—Respecting the insurrection which commenced here on Sunday last, I shall say, as did an orderly dragoon to me, of whom I enquired on the 6th of June, 1832, in the Rue St. Martin, was it all over? "Yes," said he, "until they begin again."

Much blood has been spilt in this unhappy affair. Between 120 and 150 deaths have already resulted from it.

PARIS, May 15.—All is as quiet as the continued movements of the police will permit. Every instant new arrests are made. Yesterday evening the number of prisoners detained in the Conciergerie and Prefecture of Police amounted to 305.—In the course of this day fresh captures took place, and a quantity of arms and ammunition was found in the various depots of the insurgents, which are now removing to the palace of Justice. Warrants have been issued against individuals at Lille, Lyons and Strausburg, as implicated in the conspiracy in which the revolt originated.

The Paris papers in general seem to entertain very little confidence in the stability of the new French Ministry, which contains none of the political leaders of any one party, and is evidently formed on the principle of the Mole Cabinet, that of vesting the whole power, and consequently the chief responsibility, of Government, in the hands of the King. The Ministry has been formed under an impression that the Constitutional party in the Chamber has been too much frightened by the late insurrection, to offer any serious resistance to the continued encroachments of the Crown.

The whole of the Spanish Ministry resigned on the 4th. The cause of their determination is not known, and the despatches from Madrid of that date do not mention whether the Queen accepted or not their resignation.—Journal des Debats.

PARIS, May 14.—The Duke de Bassano, died on Monday last in Paris.

The Moniteur publishes the following telegraphic despatch:

BAYONNE, May 13th, 3 o'clock, P. M.

"The Sub-Prefect of Bayonne to the Minister of the Interior.

"Cabrera is again master of the Madrid road, and four mails from that capital are now due.

"On the 8th, General Espartero, who had taken entire possession of the Rameles, announced that he would attack Guardamine on the 10th."

From the foregoing it will be seen, that it will not be possible to have Madrid news by post for yet two days to come.

LIVERPOOL, May 10th.—Cotton.—The accounts brought by the Great Western, again show a considerable deficiency in the receipts at the various ports of the United States, and a very extensive decrease in the exports to Europe as compared with the same period last year; this had given the importers increased confidence, and a few of the leading houses are offering their stocks. The market however still continues in a very depressed state, the accounts from the manufacturing districts being so discouraging. Prices of most kinds have again declined 4d per lb, with the exception of the good and fine qualities of American, which are scarce, and offered sparingly. Speculators have taken 100 American.

Sales of the week 8,690 bales.—Uplands, ordinary to fair, 7 1/4 to 8 1/4; good fair to fine, 9 1/4 to 9 3/4; Orleans, 7 1/4 to 10 1/4; Mobile and Alabama, 7 1/4 to 10; Sea Island, ordinary to fair, 20 a 24; good fair to fine, 26 a 35; stained 7 a 16.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, May 16.

Nothing of interest has occurred in this market since Tuesday; the demand continues limited, but there is no change of moment in prices. The sales on Tuesday were about 500 bags only; Wednesday from 1500 to 2000 bags; and to-day 2000 bags, principally in small quantities to the trade. The arrivals since Tuesday are 2 vessels from New York, 2 Mobile, 2 Charleston, and 4 New Orleans.

LIVERPOOL, May 11.—25 hhds Quercitron, unbranded, realized 24s per cwt. Oil, Linseed brings 28 a 28s 6d per cwt. Corroon—Imports this year, 316,315 bales against 574,189 same period of last; present stocks, 503,050, do, do, 314,480 do do.

LIVERPOOL CORN EXCHANGE, May 14. The only alteration since Friday in the duties on grain from Foreign ports is a decrease on rye and pease of 1s 6d per quarter. The import has been considerably increased by arrivals yesterday of wheat, flour, barley and pease from the Baltic, which for the present go into bond. At this day's market, sales were more languid than anticipated, in some degree influenced by the decline in Mark lane yesterday of about 2s per qr. on wheat. At the close of the market about 1000 bbls of Baltimore flour, of middling quality, were sold by auction at 34s 3d to 44s 10d per bbl duty free. Wheat, English, 9s 6d a 11s 6d.

LEXINGTON:
THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1839.

FOR PRESIDENT,
MARTIN VAN BUREN.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
RICHARD M. JOHNSON.

Fayette Democratic Meeting.—In our paper of to-day, will be found the proceedings of the Democratic meeting at the Court-house on Monday. The assemblage was highly respectable, and filled the Court-House. It was addressed by Maj. Flournoy, in a speech of about one hour, in his happiest strain; and although some of his remarks were truly caustic, there was nothing of malevolence in his address—and those whigs who were present and heard him, with whom we have conversed, with one single exception, award to him not only talents of the first order but a fraternal feeling, which is admitted ought to be cherished by the citizens of this whole Union. We most sincerely join with the assembled citizens in the desire that the speech shall be written out for publication; fully believing it will greatly tend to soften some of the asperities of party.

VIRGINIA ELECTIONS.

Virginia has just passed the ordeal of the ballot-box, and however attempts may have been made to conceal the truth, that bright gem has burst forth, to confound those who have attempted to mislead their less informed brethren. So late as the day before yesterday, and even yesterday, we find in the Lexington journals—"VIRGINIA ELECTION—WHIGS TRIUMPHANT!" At the same time it was known to every individual who had paid any attention to this interesting election, that the democrats had gained, since the last election, some 15 or 16 votes in the State Legislature. Their own account shews a gain of 13.

It is astonishing that the Whig presses will persevere in misrepresentations. Are they necessary to keep up the spirits of their party? This effect appears not to be produced, for their ranks are daily thinned.

In Congress the Whigs appear to have gained one member from the Conservatives.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 4th after giving several columns of election news, closes with the following

POSTSCRIPT.

The above article was in type, when the Western mail arrived last evening. We congratulate the Democracy on the unexpected gain in Lewis and Braxton. The following letter announces the agreeable intelligence—every thing satisfies us, that THE PEOPLE ARE UP, and that the State is safe. The Whig presses put forth their insidious and deceptive statements, to cheer their followers, and to deceive the ignorant. But as true as there is a sun in the firmament, the seal of State will be righted in December next—and next year, the Old Dominion will go with overwhelming weight in favor of the Little Magician. Our friends have committed some errors during the campaign. They have run two candidates for Congress, who were too fresh from the opposition, to carry the whole Republican party with them.—One of these Districts might certainly have been carried, if the most judicious selections had been made. We have suffered in two Democratic counties at least, if not in more, by the most annoying mismanagement, or worse. But for our own schisms in Amelia, and the hobby of a new county in Bath, there could not have been a question about the State. As it is, the Whigs can only dispute our triumphant success, by rudely laying their hands on some of our own men. Such as the Democratic delegates from Brooke, Alleghany, Grayson, &c. But all will be right. We again congratulate the Democracy of our own, and our sister states. We have saved the State. Truly do the Yeoman of Virginia deserve the praise which the Savanna Georgian (received last evening) confers upon them in the following remarks:

Strategy will be tried where force is wanting. Where the parties are nearly balanced, the trumpet's blast will be answered on the moment. The "Republican" army will never flinch. The "Whig" cohorts have already been made to fly from some of their fastnesses. The yeomen of Virginia are amongst the purest in the world, and on them we rely. Nothing has been left undone by the Whig leaders, and if their cause is prostrated, it will be only by the moral force and beauty of virtue. Should the Democrats succeed—adieu to the castle building fancies of Mr. Rives—perish the hopes of Mr. Clay."

Victory in Lewis and Braxton.

"Weston, (Lewis county,) May 24.—I hasten to let you know that Lewis and Braxton stands regenerated. The polls have not all come in, but enough is known, to put it beyond the possibility of doubt that Jacob J. Jackson, Democrat, is elected by a decided majority, and what is matter of surprise, in this, Col. Camben's native county and where he is exceeding popular, the vote between him and Colonel Johnson will be about neutralized. This surpasses our most sanguine hopes.—Johnson will be elected triumphantly. Never have I seen so decided an expression of political sentiment in our country, nor such a determined spirit on the part of our people."

Extract of another letter—last Evening's Mail.

"The State is safe.—Glory enough for one campaign. You need feel no concern about Col. Carroll of Grayson—he is a true Democrat—and thorough friend of Mr. Van Buren."

"We have given the preceding summary, with errors excepted. We hasten to correct it by the additional returns of last Evening's Mail. With your leave, Messrs. Whigs, we ask you to relieve Braxton and Lewis from their "durance vile"—(Only one buttonhole lower, my friend, if you please.) The account will then stand thus:

On joint vote, Administration	81
" Rives Whigs	66
" Anti Rives Whigs	10
" Conservatives	6
Doubtful	3

Errors Excepted? Oh, of course Sir!

We are happy to learn of the safe arrival at home, of our friends and neighbours, Messrs Dillard, Morgan, and Dudley, who have been absent on a trip to Europe for health and the purchase of fine Blooded stock. We learn they have succeeded in procuring a number of England's choicest cattle.

We say "go ahead old Kentuck!" They returned to New York in the Great Western, in 13 days and 8 hours.—The shortest passage ever made across the Atlantic.

TEXAS.

The Houston Intelligencer of the 2d, contains a highly interesting statistical view of the finances of Texas. The whole amount of debt is estimated to be $2,299,800, and resources, almost immediately available, to meet it, 3,018,000. Galveston bay is represented as being alive with sails, and vessels at anchor. Every thing, in fact, indicates that this young Republic, is destined to be one of the most wealthy, and powerful, next to the United States, in the World. With a climate, healthful, a soil fertile, with the facilities of navigable streams running through it to the ocean, to bear off the valuable products of the soil—Texas must be a great country.

Democratic Meeting.

At a large and respectable meeting of the Democratic citizens of Lexington and Fayette county, convened, by public notice, at the Court House in Lexington, on Monday last, the tenth of June, 1839—

The Hon. JOHN FOWLER, for many years a representative from Kentucky in Congress, was unanimously called to the Chair, and Major JOHN W. OVERTON appointed Secretary.

Daniel Bradford, Esq. Chairman of a Committee appointed at the last meeting, made a report, which being amended, was unanimously adopted as follows:

"The Committee to whom was entrusted the duty of selecting the time and place for the assembling of a State Democratic Convention, to nominate candidates for the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, have considered the matter referred to them, and beg leave to submit the subjoined resolution, as containing their unanimous opinions on the subject.

There are several reasons which prompted this resolution; but there is a paramount consideration, which would itself alone be sufficient. It is, emphatically, the democratic day—made signal and glorious, by the great living head of the democratic party; and, therefore, we choose it, as not only appropriate, but to honor him who made it glorious, and who now reposes at the Hermitage, on the laurels of military and civic triumphs, such as have rarely, if ever, been achieved by mortal man.—Therefore,

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Democratic party of Kentucky, to attend, by their County Delegates, in a State Convention, to be held at Frankfort, on the EIGHTH of JANUARY next, for the purpose of nominating suitable candidates for the offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor; and also of nominating Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

By the unanimous order of the Committee,
DAN'L. BRADFORD, Ch'm. Com.

When, on motion of Mr. N. L. Turner, it was Resolved, That a Committee of fifteen be appointed for the purpose of receiving and of disseminating any information which may be deemed important to the cause in which we are engaged. That it be the duty of said Committee to call a county democratic meeting, whenever, in the opinion of said Committee, such meeting may be deemed advisable. And to perform all honorable acts necessary to the success of our cause.

The following gentlemen were appointed the Committee:

N. L. Turner, John Norton, F. Dunlap, John W. Overton, Thos. A. Russell, Joel Johnson, Pepton C. Aubry, Wm. Stanhope, Nathan Payne, J. Bruen, Daniel Bradford, Francis McLeary, Thos. M. Hickey, James O'Mara, and Benj. Graves.

Resolved, That the friends of the present democratic administration of the general government, in the several counties in Kentucky, be hereby invited to hold meetings in their respective counties, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the general Convention, to be held on the 8th of January; and that they be requested to report to the Committee in this city.

Resolved, That Walter Ballock, Wm. Stanhope, Nathan Payne, N. L. Turner, and D. C. Overton, be a Committee to wait on Maj. Flournoy, and request of him to write out the eloquent address delivered by him for publication.

Resolved, That the Democratic Editors in Kentucky be requested to give these proceedings an insertion in their several papers.

The meeting then adjourned.

JOHN FOWLER, Ch'm.

JOHN W. OVERTON, Sec'y.

The celebrated racer, Grey Eagle, was sold, on the Oakland course, in Louisville, on Friday last, for $6,200.—Mr. A. L. Shotwell, of Georgetown, was the purchaser.

At a meeting of the friends of Silk Culture in Lexington, Kentucky, and its vicinity, held in the Court house, on Monday, the 10th of June, instant, Col. C. J. SANDERS was called to the chair, and S. R. JONES appointed Secretary. After the object of the meeting was announced, on motion, Dr. JOHN C. RICHARDSON, S. R. JONES and SAMUEL CHEW, were appointed a Committee to prepare a preamble and resolutions; and after a few minutes absence, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS both argument and experience clearly prove that the Silk Culture is both practicable and profitable, and is desirable also on other accounts; and whereas many of our sister States seem determined to secure to themselves their proportion of its advantages, by legislative encouragement and social combination; be it, therefore, as the unanimous and deliberate conviction of this Convention,

Resolved, That the best interests of the people of Kentucky, and especially of the farmers, will be promoted by the immediate and general introduction of the Culture of Silk into the State.

Resolved, That to secure this object, the establishment of a State Silk Society, auxiliary to the American Silk Society, is essentially necessary.

Resolved, That to establish such a society, all the friends of the Silk Culture be, and they hereby are, invited to meet us in Convention, personally or by delegation, on Monday, the 12th day of August next.

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed to prepare, and cause to be published, an address to the citizens of Kentucky on this subject.

Resolved, That a Committee of five be appointed, the chairman being one, to prepare a constitution for a State Silk Society, to be presented for the contemplated Convention, and make other arrangements necessary to facilitate the movements of that meeting.

Resolved, That the profits arising from the sale of the Mulberry tree, great as they now are, must soon entirely fail, unless the feeding of the worm bear some adequate proportion to the increase of the tree.

Resolved, That, therefore, this Convention earnestly recommend to those rearing Mulberry trees for sale, to turn their attention to the feeding of the worm, by which they will not only make the market for their trees permanent and profitable, but also greatly subserve the interest of the State, by disseminating a knowledge of this highly important branch of industry, and by demonstrating practically the advantages to be derived from it.

After which, S. R. JONES, B. F. HALL and J. C. RICHARDSON, were appointed a Committee under the provisions of the fourth resolution, and S. R. JONES, CHEW, J. C. RICHARDSON and L. WHEELER, were associated with the Chairman in a Committee proposed by the fifth resolution.

On motion of Dr. B. F. HALL, it was Resolved, That S. R. JONES be appointed to deliver an address on the Silk business at the next session of this Convention, and that the ladies and gentlemen of Lexington and vicinity be invited to attend.

On motion of S. R. JONES the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretary, and be published in the papers of this city, with a request that editors generally throughout the State, be friendly to the cause, copy it into their respective journals.

Resolved, That this Convention adjourn to meet again at this place on the second Monday in July next, at 3 o'clock, P. M.

Whereupon the Convention adjourned.

C. J. SANDERS, Chairman.

S. R. JONES, Secretary.

The Observer and Intelligencer are requested to insert the foregoing.

GOOD APPOINTMENT.

The Hon. ELY MOORE has been appointed Surveyor of the Port of New York. A good man and true; no better could have been selected. He is a man of superior talents, firmness, and integrity. He rose from a poor mechanic, to an exalted station in the councils of his country, where he distinguished himself as the able advocate of the pure principles of republicanism, and the natural sentiment of the rights of the poor, against the oppressions of the rich.—Emp.

DEATH OF WILLIAM LEGGETT.

The New York Evening Post of Thursday morning, announces the death of William Leggett, formerly one of the editors and proprietors of that paper. As a political writer, Mr. Leggett, attained, within a brief period, a high rank and an extensive and enviable reputation.—Id.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION.—We learn by a gentleman direct from Randolph, that the steamboat Buckeye burst one of her boilers on her upward voyage, a few miles above that place, killing the engineer and five other persons, all the hands employed on the boat, the passengers escaping without injury.—District Herald.

THE GREAT DISTRESS.—We hear a great deal about the distress of the country; but it is all humbug. Money is scarce, it is true, for the ordinary business of life; but it is plenty for speculation.—How can people be distressed, when they give one thousand dollars for a negro at sheriff's sale? We are distressed because we cannot get money for our paper, advertising and job work; but many of the very men who owe us have hundreds in their pockets, which they retain to purchase negroes at sheriff's sale; or which they are holding up to pay some old speculating debt when the sheriff is about to sell their property. At the present time, there is about four times as much trash in circulation as the legitimate business of the country demands; but there is not enough to pay the fancy debts yet. Perhaps, if the Union Bank would issue about twenty millions more of her post notes, she might make things easy for the present. Then it would require about fifty millions more next year. Vicksburg Sentinel.

Crime and its consequences.—We stated in Saturday's paper, that Ver Bruggen, one of the pirates of the Braganza, had committed suicide in prison. Since that James Davys, an English boy of about 18, upon whose testimony Ver Bruggen was convicted, and who was reserved in prison to give evidence in the case of Kneudson, another of the crew, had destroyed himself.

Davys, who was on board the Braganza, protested his own innocence, but said he was forced to take part in navigating the vessel.

He was detained in a cell

N. MACOMB'S REPORT OF HIS PROCEEDINGS IN FLORIDA.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE U. S. }
Fort King, Florida, May 22, 1839.

SIR:—Agreeably to the instructions I had the honor to receive from your hands at Washington, on the 20th of arch last, I lost no time in repairing to Florida, and arrived at Black Creek, the general depot of the army, the 5th of April. There I had the good fortune to meet with Brigadier General TAYLOR, the commander of the forces in this Territory, then on a tour of inspection of the troops, and at the same time engaged his plan of dividing the country nearest to the settlements into squares of twenty miles, and establishing posts thereon. This fortunate meeting enabled me to see in the hands of General Taylor a copy of your instructions, and to give him orders to co-operate with me in carrying those instructions into effect, directing his attention particularly to the protection of the settlements along the line from Gary's Ferry to Tallahassee, and west of the latter place, authorizing him at the same time to call into service such a force of militia as he might see fit to employ. General Taylor, having with him interpreters and Indians connected with the hostile parties by ties of consanguinity and intermarriage, was desired to open, if possible, a communication with them, and thereby make them acquainted with the act of my arrival in the country, and my wish to see the chiefs and warriors at this post by the 1st of May next, to hold a conference with them. Col. Twigg, who was then commanding at Gary's Ferry, having military authority over a considerable extent of country, was also made acquainted with my instructions, and he rendered a ready and efficient aid in furthering my views. Colonel Warren, of Jacksonville, who heretofore had command of the militia serving in Florida, and was highly recommended to me on account of his efficiency and activity as an officer, was invited to raise and take command, as Lieutenant Colonel, of a battalion of mounted militia, to assist in the defence of the settlements east of the Suwannee, and expel the Indians. Although quite inconvenient to him at that time, on account of his private affairs, the colonel very promptly complied with my wishes. In the meanwhile, General Taylor was making arrangements with the Governor of Florida, in raising, for the defence of the settlements on the west of the Suwannee, a military force. Notwithstanding all these measures, the Indians, dividing themselves into small parties, penetrated the settlements, committed some murders, and fired from their covert, on the expresses and passengers, going from post to post. Under these indications, it was the general belief that no communication could be opened with the hostile parties, especially as it had been given out that the Indians would, on no account, receive any messengers, but would destroy any person that might approach them with a flag. This threat having been executed more than once, confirmed the opinion that it was worse than useless to attempt to communicate with them. Finding at Gary's Ferry a party of prisoners, consisting of one man and two well-grown lads, and a number of women and children, amounting in all to eighteen, it occurred to me that, by treating them kindly, I might, through their instrumentality, communicate with the hostile bands. Accordingly, I set them at liberty, and sent them into the country in search of their friends, that they might make known to them, and the Indians generally, the object of my coming among them. General Taylor also sent out his Indians, in whose sincerity and honesty he had great confidence. This first attempt to open a communication entirely failed, General Taylor's Indians having left him and joined the hostile party below Tampa, and those sent by me returned without seeing any whatever. In the meantime, reports were received of the continued hostilities of the Indians, and of attacking defenceless people and killing them. According to my previous notification that I would be at this post by the 1st of May, I left Gary's Ferry, on the 25th of April, with a guard of dragoons, taking with me the prisoners previously mentioned, and again sent them off in search of their friends; but it was not (after remaining here) until the 9th instant that any Indians called to visit me.

Knowing the slowness of the Indians in performing any matter of national importance, I did not yield to the general belief that none would attend my invitation, and I had the gratification to receive a visit from a young chief of considerable importance, accompanied by seven young active warriors. I explained to the chief the object of my mission, telling him that his great father (the President) was sorry that there had been so much fighting between his white and red children, and that for their good he recommended them to cease firing on each other, and make peace. The chief expressed himself greatly delighted with the prospect of peace. I told him that if the whole nation would retire below Pease creek, hostilities would cease, and that they might remain there till further arrangements could be made. He again expressed his gladness at hearing what I said, and promised that he would take my communication and spread it around, being persuaded that it would be well received by all his people. In a few days after he collected a considerable party of his people, consisting of men, women, and children, and paid me another visit. I repeated to him, in their presence, the same "talk," and they seemed all pleased with it. I then made them some presents, after which they departed much gratified, for they were all in a most destitute condition, as to clothing and other necessities.

On the 17th instant, Lt. Colonel Harney, of the 2nd dragoons, who had previously received my directions to open a communication with the Indians in the southern portion of the peninsula, near Key West, Bistany arrived with Chitto-Tustenuggee, principal Chief of the Seminoles, who had been recently elected by a council held by the Seminoles and Micucias. Chitto-Tustenuggee expressed a great desire that the business on which he was called to meet me might be speedily attended to. Accordingly, on the next day a meeting was held, composed of Chitto-Tustenuggee, attended by O-cho-Hadjo, a brother of Blue-Snake, who came with him to witness the proceedings at the request of the Council of the Nation, and Harlock-Hodjo, Chief of the Micucias in this section of the country and all his band that had not been despatched by him, to call in the warriors who were out in detached parties. After going through the usual ceremonies among Indians of shaking hands and smoking, I explained to the meeting who I was, and the object of my mission among them, at which they immediately evinced great satisfaction. I then dictated to them the terms of peace, which they readily accepted, manifesting great joy on the occasion, and they have since been dancing and singing according to their fashion, in token of friendship and peace, in which many of our officers joined them, all being satisfied of the sincerity of the respective parties.

The enclosed general order, announcing the result of the conference, exhibits the terms of peace. Under existing circumstances, I did not think it necessary to enter into a formal written treaty—such an instrument, with Indians, having but little binding effect. Nor did I think it politic at this time, to say anything about their emigration, leaving that subject open to such future arrangements as the Government may think proper to make with them. No restriction upon the pleasure of the Government, in this respect, has been imposed, nor has any encouragement been given to the Indians that they would be permitted permanently to remain in Florida.

There is every reason to believe that when the Indians remaining in Florida shall learn the prosperous condition of their brethren in Arkansas, they will, at no distant period, ask to be permitted to join them.

I have the honor to be, sir, very respectfully your obedient servant,

ALEX. MACOMB,
Major General Commanding in chief.
Hon. J. R. POINSETT,
Secretary of War, Washington City.

From the Baltimore American.

The State of Mississippi presents a melancholy instance of the deplorable effects arising from the practice, which appears to be so general among her citizens, of carrying deadly weapons about their persons. Occurrences of violence, and bloodshed and death follow each other in rapid succession, in utter disregard of law and order, and to the deep despair not only of those whose parties to these acts but also of those of the same community who may be sincerely opposed to them. In the Natchez Courier of the 20th instant we find the annexed relation of a recent affray, attended with death. In giving publicity to it, the editor precedes it with the following proper remarks, condemnatory of the abominable practice to which we have alluded:

The ink with which we record one catastrophe is hardly dry upon our paper, ere we are called upon to chronicle another. This is indeed a horrid state of affairs, but it is needless to disguise the truth, as much as that truth will disgrace our State and dishonor our reputation as citizens abroad.—Unless public sentiments can be aroused and arrayed in all its potency and majesty against the resort to deadly weapons to decide the feuds that may arise from time to time, and against the carrying of weapons of death, we are threatened with the daily enactment of such disgraceful scenes as of late we have often recorded and are now about again to chronicle. The whole duelling system is a murderous relic of the dark ages, and the resort among the citizens to arms to redress their wrongs is a burlesque upon the profession that we live in a land where the law is supreme. We hope that the day is not far distant even in Mississippi when the man of honor and the gentleman will despise and shun the man who will carry habitually about his person weapons of death. We believe much evil has resulted to the people of this State from the prevalence of this barbarous and silly custom. If one man is known to be armed as a necessary consequence it leads to the arming of others, and the one individual is often compelled in an affray to anticipate the intentions of his assailant—and take his life or lose his own. We again press this subject as an all important one on our readers, and hope that every weapon of death will be discarded from the person of every real gentleman and that public sentiment will speedily consign to the armory where alone they should be kept for public service all instruments of destruction.

The melancholy affair which suggested the above remarks occurred in the adjoining county of Wilkinson at the town of Woodville in the early part of last week. From a gentleman direct from that place we learn that the circumstances as he heard them narrated were substantially as follows:

A short time previous to the late session of the Grand Jury of Wilkinson county, a challenge was passed and a duel was to have been fought between Mr. Leigh, a son of Watkins Leigh of Virginia, and Mr. W. A. Norris, editor of the Republican, but it was arranged by the friends of the parties.—When the Grand Jury convened, the foreman in accordance with his oath, took an active part in endeavoring to investigate the matter, and bringing the parties concerned in, and cognisant of the matter before them. They all refused to testify and were all consequently committed to prison.

Sometime after this the foreman Mr. A. J. Foster happened in Mr. Leigh's office and enquired for some person, when Mr. Leigh called him an informer and used other abusive language to him.—A challenge ensued and a duel was to have been fought between them, which was set for some few days subsequent. A day or so after the quarrel Mr. Leigh met Mr. C. Foster, a younger brother of A. J. Foster, in the street and asked him who he was looking at so hard? Mr. F. replied that he had a right to look as he pleased, without being questioned; some other words of an insulting character were used and a general quarrel and fight ensued, commencing between Mr. C. Foster, Dr. Morese and the friends of each, among whom were Mr. Leigh, Mr. Fielding Davis, Judge Smith, and one or two others; immediately after which Leigh who had received some personal injury from Mr. Davis, sent him a challenge by Mr. H. A. Moore requested an immediate answer. Mr. D. replied that he would answer it in the morning. Mr. Moore then used some harsh language to Mr. D. and either called or insinuated that he was a coward, upon which Mr. D. turned and struck Mr. Moore with a whip, which he held in his hand, and injured him very severely in the face. Mr. D. then went home and changed his dress which had been soiled in the affray, and walked into the post office. Mr. Leigh walked in immediately afterwards with a drawn knife or dirk in his hand. Mr. D. saw him as he advanced and told him not to approach him.—Mr. L. continued to do so. Mr. D. repeated his warning and told him if he did so, that he would shoot him, and seeing that Mr. Leigh did not stop, he raised a double-barrel gun which he had in his hand and snapped both barrels at him, neither of which went off. He then struck him with the end of the gun and knocked him down, and then retreated across the street. Mr. Leigh after rising continued to advance when Mr. Davis drew a pistol and shot Mr. L. in the side which penetrated his spine. Leigh after lingering near two days died of the wound. Davis was immediately arrested and after an examination was admitted to bail in the sum of $15,000.

Mr. Davis is well known in this community as a gentleman of irreproachable character, and it is a matter of profound regret that he should be impelled by the force of circumstances to be engaged in this unfortunate affair. But the times seem most deplorably out of joint, and we are prepared to hear almost any thing without much surprise. A very great excitement prevailed in Woodville, and it is quite probable that other affrays will grow out of this, as both parties we understand have violent and strenuous friends.

Is there no remedy for this state of things? Are we to become a bye-word and an opprobrium throughout the civilized world?

The Natchez Courier has also a notice of another occurrence of a disgraceful character. It appears that some weeks ago Governor McNUTT was contemptuously spit upon by the clerk of the Chancery Court at Jackson, R. L. Dixon, and that Mr. A. J. Paxton published a severe commentary on the proceeding in one of the newspapers. This, it appears, was followed by acts of violence, the circumstances of which are thus detailed in a letter from Jackson, under date of 16th inst.

"On yesterday, R. L. Dixon, the clerk of the Chancery Court attacked A. J. Paxton in the Rotunda of the Capitol, and gave him a very severe caning, for and on account of a publication of Paxton's which appeared in the Mississippiian of the 3d. inst. Judge McKinley of the United States Court (then in session in the capitol), fined Dixon $500 for contempt of Court. In the evening Mr. Paxton and his friends, about twenty in number, prepared for an attack on Dixon, by arming themselves with guns and pistols, and placed themselves in a house by which D. was most sure to pass in going to his office. D. hearing of this, prepared himself for defence by taking his stand in the street where he stood for half an hour, when P. sent him a challenge, which D. would not except, as signing as his reasons, that he had a lucrative office, and should he accept the challenge, he would lose it, and by the law be debarred from the privilege of ever again holding an office in the State.—Paxton then came out and commenced advancing on Dixon, who told him that if he advanced further, it would be at the risk of his life, at which P. stopped and denounced D. and then retired, when the crowd almost simultaneously shouted, "Hurrah for Dixon." Here the matter of yesterday seems likely to stop."

But this evening Judge McKinley, of the U. S. Court, after adjourning court, and whilst on his way to his room, had his nose pulled severely, by a Mr. James H. Boyd, a young man who had been acting as an officer of the court during the aforesaid affray between D. & P. and for not interfering was called "a stupid Jackass," by Judge McKinley."

Southern Bank of Kentucky.—We learn that in Logan, about $200,000 of stock has been taken, and it is believed that fifty thousand more will be taken. Should Christian, Todd, Warren and Barren, whose means are likely equal to Logan, follow the spirited example of Logan, the Bank will no doubt go into operation.

The Legislature of Michigan has passed a law prohibiting, under severe penalties, the running of any car or other vehicle, on any public road, on Sunday, unless in cases of emergency, which must be certified to by some public officer.

Going it Large.—Some silly people are in the habit of saying that it takes nine tailors to make a man, while the truth is tailors are as sharp as their neighbors. A journeyman tailor, of the name of James Webb, lately convinced some Baltimore merchants of the fact. He arrived at Baltimore and put up at the Globe Hotel, representing himself as a merchant who was about purchasing goods. He visited several merchantile houses, and made purchases to the amount of $30,000. He requested that the goods might be placed aside, as it was not his intention to take them until they were paid for. His requests were complied with by the gentlemen with whom he had traded, who were delighted with his riches and honesty. So enraptured were they with their customer, they soon made a lion of him, carrying him to balls, parties, &c., allowed him the use of their carriages, and did everything in their power to make his time pass agreeably. At length, one day this scrupulously honest gentleman was missing, and it was soon ascertained that he was a journeyman tailor, whose capital consisted of an unblushing effrontery, a plausible address, and a fine suit of clothes, things which have deceived even wiser persons than the Baltimore merchants.

A new Candidate for the Presidency has been brought out by the Milledgeville (Geo.) Journal, George M. Troup, to be supported by the States Rights party.

Money, which answers such a variety of purposes, has been used to hire a person into health. A gentleman cured his wife, who was complaining, by giving her a dollar a day for every day that she did not complain; if she uttered any complaint her wages were stopped for that day.

SPIEFUL.—The anti-fifteen gallion boys of Boston, on Wednesday night lynched the gate of one of the temperance informers and witnesses on a recent trial there for violating the license law.—The gate was beautifully covered with tar, with an abundant supply of feathers.

SUICIDE.—Mr. Woodman Wheeler, of Petersham, was found hanging dead in his barn on Tuesday of last week. The cause of this suicide, as it has been told us, is somewhat singular. Mr. Wheeler, a month since, was a hearty old bachelor, verging upon three score and ten.—But though old, his heart was not insensible to the "tender emotions and affairs of love." In an unguarded hour, as it seems, he plighted his troth to a lady—we cannot say exactly how fair. In another moment "he did repent him of the rash act," and earnestly sought a release from the galling though silken claim. The lady was tenacious, and our bachelor generously offered one hundred dollars for a discharge. The lady pleaded blighted hopes, and, tearful as became her sex, would only accept of twice that sum. The repentant lover thought this extortion, and refused; the pertinacious angel called him a trifler, and threatened a suit for breach of promise.—He took counsel legal, and then of his purse, and—married her. On the day of the wedding he left her, and never saw her more. The day of his suicide was the day fixed for her removal to his house. "Liberty or death," thought the sighing husband—and debarred of the former, he embraced the latter. The means were emblematic of his fate; to escape the chafing of a silken cord, he hung himself with a log chain.—Barre (Vt.) Gazette.

SAILOR'S DREAD OF FRIDAY.—"Columbus sailed from Spain on Friday, discovered land on Friday. These curious coincidences have sufficed, one might think, to dispel the superstitious dread still so prevalent of commencing a voyage on that ominous day.

DIED.—On the night of the 4th instant, at the residence of Mr. Joseph Bryant, of this County, Mr. Asa Cartmill, after a confinement so long and melancholy in its character, that his afflicted and devoted friends, should consider it a blessing that God, in his providence, has seen fit to call him home.

So far as friends, fortune, and character, were concerned, he was favored in an eminent degree. But all these he has had to give up for an existence beyond the grave; and we fondly hope, that so far from losing by the exchange, that he is now in the full fruition of all those pleasures, which will forever thrill the souls of the redeemed of the Lord.

MRS. C. A. Her Tavern House has undergone, since the last season, very material alterations, and is now fitted up in the handsomest style, and in addition, a number of pleasant and comfortable cottages have been erected and finished, which are as agreeable as any at any other watering place in the State. She has attentive and accommodating agents to attend to her visitors. Her Table shall be, at all times, supplied with every thing the country affords—and in addition, it will be furnished with VENISON AND FRESH FISH whenever they can be had. Her Bar shall be supplied with the choicest and best of Liquors and Wines, and on the whole, she promises that no exertions, expense or trouble shall be spared to render the BLUE LICK SPRINGS equal in accommodation and comfort to those of any other watering place in the State. She respectfully solicits a share of public patronage.

N. B. It has not been considered necessary to speak of the character of the Blue Lick Water. It is more extensively known as the finest mineral water, conducting, in a more eminent degree, to the restoration of health, and its preservation, than any other in the United States. As an evidence of this fact, it need simply be told, that there is a constant supply of it kept in all the principal cities, not only in Kentucky, but in the adjoining States.

NOTICE THIS.

WHITE SULPHUR WELL, SCOTT CO. Ky.

THE undersigned has taken possession of this useful fountain, having the sole management of it by contract. The arrangements have been made under the advice and judgement of Major A. Throckmorton, of Louisville, so well known for his experience, capacity and judgment in such matters. I have the assurance of the continued advice, and occasional visits of this same distinguished individual during the watering season. I will be able to accommodate all who may come. I am prepared to give reasonable satisfaction to all.

I have associated with myself, several active, efficient, and respectable gentlemen, to assist me in accommodating my visitors. Among these I will mention Mr. John T. Campbell, late of Frankfort, and Mr. L. Calvert, the recent proprietor of the Well. This celebrated fountain of white Sulphur Water is situated about ten miles from Frankfort and seven from Georgetown, and within half a mile from the great Turnpike road between the two places. The location is upon the land of Col. R. M. Johnson, and one mile from his residence and the Choctaw Academy. The water is used from a pump, which brings it 27 feet below the surface of the earth.—It has been a place celebrated for the last 50 years as a resort for Deer and Buffalo, but has only been known as a watering place for the last two years.

This well or fountain of water has been visited by literary and scientific gentlemen, among whom the celebrated Dr. W. Dudley, of Lexington, who stands so eminently high in his profession, as well as for his literary attainments. He has said this water is of superior quality and usefulness, and recommends it to the invalid, as useful and valuable, and to the healthy to preserve their health. Mr. John Lewis, late of Virginia, and now resident of Kentucky, distinguished for his literary and scientific acquirements, has visited most of the watering places in the United States, and gives this the most decided preference over all.

The water is cold and pleasant. A taste for it is soon created by using it, in most persons.

The warm bath made some extraordinary cures last season. The cold and shower baths will also be well attended to; they also have proved beneficial and delightful. The Well is within a mile of Elkhorn, which affords good fishing at all times. The woods and forest in which it is located, affords every amusement and exercise that can excite those who seek bodily exercise for health or pleasure. Daily Stages will run to the springs from Frankfort and Lexington, connecting with other daily Stages to every point in the State.

I therefore invite to this pleasant retreat, those who seek retirement from the cares of business in this warm season of the year. I invite the invalid to those who wish to be restored to good health, and all who wish to preserve their health, and those who seek innocent recreation and amusement, to come, as I pledge myself to devote my time and attention to their accommodation and comfort. I will be prepared to accommodate all who may come on horseback or in their private carriages, with stables and provender or good pasturage. I solicit patronage, and pledge myself to merit it.

E. ZEYSING.

P. S. There is a Post Office at the White Sulphur Well, which brings the daily news and will enable those who are here to keep up their correspondence.

FEMALE CORDIAL OF HEALTH.

THIS invaluable preparation is a medicated Wine, pleasant to the taste, grateful to the stomach, and eminently tonic in its effects. But its highest and best quality is in its specific and curative effects on female weaknesses.

Very many of the wives and mothers among us are condemned to untold sufferings, by diseases arising from local and general debility; and because they find no relief from the strengthening remedies in common use, they are too often given up by the Faculty as incurable. Weakness, as well as the pains in the back and limbs, with which such females are afflicted, will all yield to the sovereign and infallible effects of this CORDIAL OF HEALTH. And for the weaknesses consequent upon the obstructions and irregularities to which unmarried and young females are subject, there can be no remedy in the whole Materia Medica, which combines such innocent and curative virtues.

Prepared by Edward Prentiss, sole proprietor, and sold by Daniel Bradford, at the Office of the Kentucky Gazette, Lexington.

JABEZ BEACH,

At his Coach Repository, has now on hand a COACH equal to any in the State, and four very fine COACHEES, CHARIOTS, BAROUCHES and BUGGIES, all of the first quality, manufactured at New-Ark, New-Jersey, which will be sold on the lowest terms.

Any person wishing a Carriage of any description, can by giving an order, have the same forwarded from the manufacturers at New-Ark, free of commission.
